

March 7: Alexei Borodin (MIT), “From representation theory to probability.”

The goal of the talk is to show, on the example of the infinite symmetric group, how natural representation theoretic questions lead to probabilistic answers.